Q1: Read the text and answer the following questions:

According to psychologists, we get on with people who share the same background, opinions, interests, personality and even physical appearance. People with glasses often sit next to other people with glasses. The saying that 'opposites attract' appears not to be true. If you love sport, your friends probably love sport too.

Good friends are fun to be with but they're hard to find. It's true you can make lots of contacts on social media, but are they real friends or just acquaintances? Can you be open with them? Can you rely on them? Sometimes we don't even know if an online 'friend' is a real person or someone with a fake identity.

True friendships last for a lifetime, but to have a real friendship you need to do things together and share your feelings and opinions. Studies show that true friendship survives even when friends are in different countries. But only if you keep in touch. If you don't, friendships can die.

An old proverb tells us that 'a friend in need is a friend indeed'. That means you can tell who your real friends are when you're in trouble. Real friends stay with you and help you when you need them. They never let you down or turn their back on you.

Q5 B: Suggested Answer

Hi Kamal,

Thanks for your nice email. I'm excited that you'll be visiting soon!

I just wanted to introduce myself a bit. I'm fourteen years old and I'm in Grade 9 at a public school. My family is small, just my parents and me, so it's always nice to have someone new around. We live in a nice villa. I love playing sports and drawing because they help me relax.

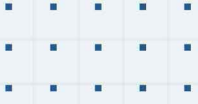

There are some great places to explore in my hometown, like parks and museums, so we can do a lot of fun things together. I've been busy with school lately, but I'm still up for showing you around!

Looking forward to meeting you soon!

Best,

Abdullah
