Q5 B: Suggested Answer

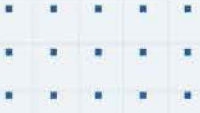

Ibn Sina

I chose Ibn Sina because he is one of the greatest scholars in history, known as the father of modern medicine. He is famous for his medical writings that shaped science for centuries. Born in 980 CE in present-day Uzbekistan.

Ibn Sina was a child prodigy, mastering many subjects, including medicine, by his teens. His most important work, The Canon of Medicine, became a standard textbook for centuries, revolutionizing how doctors understood and treated diseases.

Later in life, he continued to write and teach, influencing science and philosophy. Ibn Sina's brilliance and dedication to learning left a lasting impact on medicine and knowledge.
